Hi Susan,

Thanks for getting back to me. Internally we had a good discussion to focus our issues and I think the information will help shape EPA's input on what options we have.

On a funny note, this email just showed up in my box this morning, with a date stamp of 2:50 am! I thought, WOW, Susan was up late working. But then I saw the time stamp on the email was Monday at 8:14pm. I then remembered that EPA had an outlook glitch starting Monday night where all external emails were blocked. They fixed it Tues late afternoon, and older emails are now catching up.

Glad to know you were not up at 2:50 am working!! 😊

Laura

Subject: Sorry I missed your call

Hi Laura,

Sorry I missed your call. We do have a table that lists the rules and the compliance dates. We can share that as an agency to agency discussion. We are starting to think about interim limits post RECLAIM. I will have staff prepare that for our meeting, and if possible we will get that to you before the meeting. My personal cell for the future is: Ex. 6 Personal Privacy (PP) (I have a work cell...I have no idea what the number is and never carry it with me 😊).

Take care,
Susan
